Tutoring Experience

I have 12 years of tutoring experience, working with students from various international backgrounds. Over the years, I've focused on guiding students through the intricacies of IB English and A-Level English, helping them develop strong analytical skills and a deep understanding of literature. Many of my students have achieved exceptional results in their coursework and exams, securing placements at top universities.

In addition to IB and A-Level, I have also tutored IGCSE and AP English, supporting students in their preparations for exams and assignments. My work with these curriculums has given me a well-rounded approach to teaching English, ensuring that students can confidently tackle any literary challenge.

Throughout my tutoring career, I've emphasised the importance of developing strong writing and comprehension abilities. My students benefit from a focused, goal-oriented learning environment that encourages them to achieve their full academic potential.
